Stonewood Featured in Surface and Panels Magazine

Fibersin's Stonewood Architectural Panels were featured in the December 2015 issue of Surface and Panels magazine. The article, "Perfect Fit: Fibersin's Stonewood Architectural Panels complement mHouse's modern look in stunning fashion," highlights the flexibility and durability of the highly customizable interior and exterior phenolic panels.

The article interestingly notes that Architect John Vetter, "...had specified solid phenolic panels before, but he typically found them at companies in Europe...he learned that some of the best panels in the world are made just 30 miles from his office."
